Camano Island Cruise

by Sig Hanson

On March 23rd, members of the Island Classic Mustang Club met at Shipwreck Espresso for a tour around Camano Island led by Edward and Shelley Greybeck. Also in attendance, were Rick Thompson, Roland and Katie Woll, and Sig Hanson. We toured many of the back roads along the west side of the island. Our first stop was at Camano State Park where we were able to get out, stretch our legs, and watch a few boats pass by. After we left the state park, we stopped at the Elger Bay Store where we enjoyed burgers and soft drinks. That could have been the end of the tour but there is an art studio at the south end of the island where an artist, by the name of Jack Gunter, had some interesting stories to tell about getting some of his artwork out of Russia. With the fall of the

LeMay Museum 55th Mustang Birthday By Dan Skific

I'm gonna start by stealing a line from James Norman, " you gotta be nuts to be getting up at 4 am on a Sunday to go to a Car Show". Well I guess we are all Car Crazy. After picking up a friend we arrive at the border in my 2001 GT Vert, and get the usual 20 questions. Meetup at the first rest stop with about a dozen fellow Canucks. 6 15 am and were on our way to meet up with Dave Alvarez and his crew. And were off with about 40 Mustangs, ready to make some noise through the new Seattle tunnel. Arrive at the Museum of Flight with a photo opp with the B52. What a sweet backdrop it is. After about 40 minutes were off to the LeMay Car Museum, with a date with a certain Green 68 Mustang. Awesome turnout with 150+ Mustangs...
